- (i) in the case where the person is convicted of an offence specified in the Second Schedule to this Act, two years;
 - (ii) in the case where such person is convicted of an offence specified in the Third Schedule to this Act, one year.

6.-(1) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 4, where a person is convicted of a scheduled offence and the court is satisfied that-

- (a) the person so convicted is a first offender; and
- (b) the value of the property obtained by such person in the course of the commission of such offence or which he attempted to so obtain does not exceed or, in the case of an attempt, would not have exceeded, one hundred shillings; and
- (c) having regard to all the circumstances of the case, it is just and equitable so to do, the court may, in lieu of sentencing such person to the minimum sentence of imprisonment provided for in section 4, proceed to deal with such person as if this Act had not been enacted.

(2) For the purposes of this section "first offender" means a person who was not, at any time within seven years immediately preceding his conviction, convicted of a scheduled offence or any offence provided for in Chapter XXVI to Chapter XXXII (inclusive) of the Penal Code.

(3) This section shall not apply where any person is convicted of an offence under section 3 or section 6 of the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1971, or of stealing cattle or of robbery.

7.-(1) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 176 of the Criminal Procedure Code, where a court convicts any person of a scheduled offence other than an offence under the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1971, the court shall, if it is of the opinion that such person has obtained any property as a result of the commission of the offence and that the owner of the property can be identified, make an order that the person convicted shall pay to the owner of the property compensation equal to, the value of the property as assessed by the court.

(2) An order under this section may be made at any time after the sentence has been passed, and where it has not been made immediately after the sentence has been passed, the court which passed the sentence or any court having revisional jurisdiction over it, may make such order at any subsequent time on the application of the owner of the property or on its own motion:

Circumstances in which court may not apply this Act

Compensation
Cap. 20

Provided that no such order shall be made save in the presence of the person against whom it is made.

Acts 1966
No. 49

(3) Where an order is made under this section, the person in whose favour such order is made may file an authenticated copy thereof in the district court having jurisdiction over the area over which the court which made the order has jurisdiction, and upon being so filed the order shall be deemed to be a decree passed by such district court and may be executed in the same manner as if it were a decree passed by such court under the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code, 1966, and the district court or any other district court to which the decree may be transferred for execution, shall have jurisdiction to execute such decree notwithstanding that the amount of the compensation awarded exceeds the pecuniary jurisdiction of the district court.

Remand
conviction

8. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 11 of the Criminal Procedure Code, where any person is convicted of a scheduled offence and any part of the sentence imposed requires to be confirmed by the High Court, such person shall have no right to elect to remain on remand pending such confirmation.

Provisions relating to evidence

9. -(1) In any proceedings in which a person is charged with a scheduled offence, any document purporting to be a certificate under the hand of the Registrar of Companies or an Assistant Registrar of Companies to the effect that the company specified in such certificate is a subsidiary company within the meaning assigned to that expression by section 3, shall be admissible in evidence and shall be prima facie evidence that such company is a subsidiary company and that the signature to such certificate is a genuine and that the person signing it held the office which he professed to hold at the time when he signed it.

(2) Where in any proceedings in which a person is charged with a scheduled offence, a question arises as to whether any body of persons is affiliated to the Tanganyika African National Union, any document purporting to be a certificate under the hand of the National Executive Secretary or a Principal Assistant Secretary or a Regional Secretary of the Tanganyika African National Union to the effect that such body of persons is affiliated to the Tanganyika African National Union, shall be admissible in evidence and shall be prima facie evidence that such body of persons is so affiliated, and that the signature to such certificate is genuine and that the person signing it held the office which he professed to hold at the time when he signed it.

Court may impose imprisonment for longer term

10. (1) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as precluding a court from imposing, in relation to a scheduled offence, a sentence of imprisonment for a term longer than the minimum term of imprisonment prescribed for such offence by this Act:

Provided that the court's power to impose such longer term of imprisonment shall be subject to-

- (a) the: maximum term of imprisonment prescribed for the offence by the written law providing for the offence;
- (b) the limitation, if any, upon the court's powers to award punishments imposed by the Criminal Procedure Code or any other written law.

(2) Where the provision of the written law which provides for any of the offences specified in any of the Schedules to this Act is amended or repealed and re-enacted (whether with or without modification or whether by the re-enactment of the written law in which such provision occurs or by incorporation of the re-enacted provision in any other written law), the provisions of this Act shall, unless the amending or the repealing and re-enacting legislation, as the case may be, expressly provides to the contrary, apply to the corresponding offence or offences created by such amending or repealing and re-enacting legislation,, and the provisions of the Schedules to this Act shall be construed as if references therein to the offence provided for by the written law so amended or repealed and re-enacted, were references to such corresponding offence or offences so created.

(3) The provisions of subsection (2) shall be construed as being in addition to and not in derogation of the provisions of subsection (1) of section 10 of the Interpretation and General Clauses Ordinance. Cap. 1

11.-(1) The Minimum Sentences Act, 1963 is repealed.

Repeal
Cap. 526

(2) Every reference in any written law to any provision of the Minimum Sentences Act, 1963, shall be construed as if such reference were a reference to the corresponding provision of this Act.
